International Peer Mentor Program

The Office of Global Education is seeking volunteers to be International Peer Mentors for 2014-2015.

International Peer Mentors assist new international students at Bloomsburg University in making a smooth transition into university life. Student mentors provide both academic and social support in order to engage our international students in BU’s campus life and help them create meaningful relationships in their new home. Through the mentor/mentee relationships students explore cultural diversity while helping one another in their academics.

If you are...
- an empathetic student who wants to help others get the most out of their time at
- committed to serving the BU community
- interested in learning about other peoples and cultures
- hoping to make a difference in people’s lives

...then apply to become an International Peer Mentor!

Starts: August 22, 2014 (International Orientation Day) and runs through the 2014-2015 academic school year.

The International Peer Mentor Program includes several types of activities that help mentees become adjusted to life at BU. Mentors and mentees do things together and, in some cases, will not have to pay anything if there are costs involved. For example, mentors and mentees can
- meet individually for coffee on campus,
- meet in “mentor families”, or small groups,
- go out with friends,
- travel together on one of the BU bus trips to New York City, Washington, DC, Baltimore, or Philadelphia,
- participate in large charity events together, such as the Walk for Life or The Big Event,
- go to the Annual International Banquet together,
- help each other in their studies,

...and much more.
