Graduates of the masters of education in business education program have specialized knowledge and skills that prepare them for:

- Teaching business, computers and information technology (BCIT)
- Training and developing employees for business and government
- Teaching in higher education or proprietary business schools

Are you interested in:

- Developing the potential in others?
- Making a difference in today’s students/tomorrow’s workforce?
- Coaching and advising student teams and organizations?

If so, the BU business education graduate program is for you!

The BU business education graduate program:

- Builds upon your foundation and experience in the business sector
- Offers practical and realistic learning activities
- Provides hands-on instruction in new and emerging information technology to engage students
- Includes teaching and learning observations and experiences in K-12 diverse educational settings
- Prepares for PA certification (#61-1603) in business, computer and information technology
- Affords the opportunity for advanced graduate study in business, education or related fields
- Is a nationally known and accredited business education program

Required Courses Offered:
- Administrative Communication
- Business Information Systems Applications
- Business Information Systems and Technology
- Clinical Studies in BCIT
- Field Experience in BCIT
- Instructional Strategies and Assessment in BCIT
- Telecommunications
- Training and Development
- Professional Semester in BCIT

Elective courses offered:
- Classroom Management and Effective Discipline
- Foundations of Educational Research
- Multicultural Education
- Orientation to Exceptionalities
- Reading in Content Area
- School Law and Finance
- Studies in Diversity

To learn more about our graduate assistantships, scholarships, program requirements and course descriptions, visit http://cob.bloomu.edu/bebis

Business educators can find careers in the classroom, the boardroom and the playing field.

More information:

Further program information and applications are available online at www.bloomu.edu/gradschool.

Contact:
Professor John Olivo
Business Education
570-389-4127
jolivo@bloomu.edu