Nature of the course: This is a complete preparation course for the GMAT
The GMAT is, essentially, a test of general reasoning ability. Thus, what a test-taker needs is a clear understanding of the types of reasoning that are tested and a sensible procedural approach to the test.

Registration fee: $425
Effective GMAT prep need not take forever and a small fortune: You will receive 14 hours of expert classroom instruction and extensive handouts.

Where: Magee Center, 700 W. Main St., Bloomsburg, PA
The course is offered through the University's Office of Corporate and Continuing Education. Contact: Linda Tomashefski. Telephone: (570) 389-4420. E-mail: ltomash2@bloomu.edu.

Dates and times: One weekend: May 15-16, 2010
The class meets from 9-5, with an hour for lunch, on both days.

Instructor: James Yoho, J.D., Ph.D.
Dr. Yoho has been teaching well-regarded test preparation since 1996 at the request of such schools as La Salle, Penn State, Lehigh, Rutgers, Emory, Marist, Binghamton, and Temple. Now a full-time standardized test coach, he taught at colleges and universities for more than 13 years. He has coached some 8,500 test-takers on the GMAT and similar tests. (Questions about the course content may be directed to Dr. Yoho at yohoprep@aol.com.)
